Based on the supplied app screenshots. Prices are in INR. A free trial starts a subscription and is separate from permanently free access. App labels follow the supplied filenames where full identities are not shown.

1. Onboarding

Four introductory slides explain iPhone remote control, familiar buttons, touchpad/keyboard/app access and supported TV devices. Each slide has Continue and Skip. Device discovery asks the user to keep the phone and TV on the same Wi-Fi network.

2. When does it ask for money? Paywall

A subscription paywall appears after the introductory slides, before the final device-search screen. A close button allows the user to leave the paywall.

3. Offer on the paywall

Yearly: ₹3,499/year, advertised as Save 77%. Weekly: ₹299/week. Both options display a 3-day free trial. The offer promises access to all features, with touchpad navigation highlighted.

4. What is available for free?

Onboarding and TV discovery are accessible without subscribing. The screenshots do not demonstrate connected-TV control or establish which remote buttons remain free.
